

(mis)communication idioms

Sorry about the problem with the delivery, I think we got our _____ crossed somehow.

Come on Kate, dish the _____! What's Frieda's new boyfriend like?

Between you and _____, I don't think Christine is going to be in the job much longer. I don't think she's very happy here.

Don't beat around the _____ Harry! Tell me what he said. Did he like your idea?

I don't know anything about the phone project, I've been out of the _____ since I moved to the testing department.

I heard it on the _____ that Tony is thinking of standing for President of the club this year.

Don't worry Leon, my _____ are sealed. Your secret is safe with me.

Hi Dorothy, a little _____ told me that you got the marketing job. Congratulations!

bird grapevine me lips wires dirt bush loop
--

Can you think of any situations where you could use some of these idioms?

Do you have any similar idioms in your own language?