

Suggestion Box

- Everyone should stand in meetings, rather than sit.
- All internal documents should be uploaded onto computers and photocopiers should be removed from the building.
- Air fresheners should be placed in each office.
- People should take a 45-minute break every day, in which time their computers are shut down so they cannot work.
- Companies should introduce uniforms across the organisation.
- Unlimited free tea and coffee should be made available to all staff.
- Company mobile phones should be available for private use too.
- Staff should attend training courses in their own time, not company time.
- Staff should be allowed to decorate their own office in any way they wish.
- Companies should pay the petrol for anyone driving over 30km to get to work.